

The Aldus Society presents

Thursday, April 14, 2016 ♦ 7:30 PM

at the Thurber Center,

91 Jefferson Ave., Columbus

“FREED FROM A PARCHMENT JAIL: A BIBLIOGRAPHIC STORY OF THE BIRTH OF THE AVANT-GARDE”

Olchar E. Lindsann is an expert in the history and historiography of the avant-garde. His talk is based on the recently uncovered history of the early years of the movement.

The Aldus Society is an organization for people who appreciate the many facets of text and image through various media, but principally the book, past, present and future. Aldus provides a wide variety of programs and activities on book collecting, the history of printing, publishing, and book selling, book illustration, book design, book bindings, paper making, typography, calligraphy, and libraries.

Pre-program socializing begins at 7 PM and allows members and guests time to discuss their latest bibliophilic adventures.

The evening's program is free and open to the public.

Find us on Facebook!

For more information,
please contact the Publicity Chairman at 614-268-6222 or www.aldussociety.com